

Table Messenger

Wyderproduct•company

The original concept of the product design is to give a rebirth to the outlook of the daily-use memo pads. Our designers feel that it is too plain to place the memo paper on the desk top, and they struggle in making the whole design more 3-dimensional and at the same time matches with other objects placed on the desk. Finally, designers make the memo pads into the shape of desk lights, and with the rich experience of our production team colleagues, we have registered the product as patent product in many countries.
